A. JAIL REPORT –Mark A. Flowers

The jail is currently below its authorized capacity 1,494, with a year-to-date ADP of 1,321. Today's count was 1360. Corrections passed their yearly inspection by the Florida Model Jail Standards team with no notable violations. There is going to be a new telephone vendor for the jails. They will be charging by the minute without an additional charge for starting the call.

Chief Judge Zambrano brought up the subject of Hepatitis A in the jail. It's very widespread in Volusia County, not just the jail.

CJIS REPORT – Greg Ledet

We are discussing installation requirements with IC Solutions regarding the inmate phone system. Installation will take 1 week to accomplish once all the plans are finalized. A final installation date has not been set, but we're expecting it to be in July.

The zoned cabling network project for Corrections is completed except for the Video Visitation portion.

The new video visitation system is still a few months from being installed. Video visitation will have to closed down for about 3 weeks to remove the old system and install the new equipment.

Last week, Ormond Beach Police Department was able to solve a case based on the pictures found in the Scars, Marks, and Tattoos database.

IV. OLD BUSINESS

Opioids Epidemic – James Lynam formally with Department of Children and Family Services now with The Hero's Mile which is a veteran's substance abuse facility on 92 near DeLand. At this time there is no regulations on opening housing for opioid users. There are only four approved houses in Circuit 7 and the DCF website will show the agencies that are FAAR (Florida Agencies for Alcohol) accredited. There are 149/150 publically funded residential treatment places in Circuit 7. There are two crisis stabilization centers in Volusia County. Outpatient treatment is also certified and residential treatment always has a waiting list.

V. NEW BUSINESS

Statute 951.26 was discussed regarding the PSCC. In 394.657 statute, there is no criminal justice, mental health and substance abuse reinvestment grant program for Volusia County. Chief Judge Zambrano wants to know if this council would want to apply for this grant and if so, does this council want to add the members needed? First thing to do is contact the County Council and if they approve for this council of expanding to get the grant. Ms. Nicole Sharbono stated that most of the grants these days do not allow you to fund beds. But the money can be used for other areas. Chief Judge wants to notify the County Council about applying for the grant and this was seconded by Matt Metz. A letter will be drafted to the County Council.
